Hello Julie,

We (the Libby team) have congressional staff update on the Libby project each month, I have been giving them brief updates (Our brief talking points) at the end of those calls as well. Virginia seems very appreciative.

Thanks for the info,
Mike

Subject: Virginia Sloan, Senator Tester's Office, call on status of CFAC

I received a call from Virginia Sloan, Senator Tester's field representative, asking for more specific dates on when the federal register notice will be published and the timing around the 60 public comment period. Victor and I conferred and I pass along the following information.

- The federal register will be published toward end of March. We don't have a specific date and the final date will be determined by HQ.
- The 60 day public comment period commences at the date of the federal register publication.
- In general, we attempt to respond to comments and make a final determination of listing at the next listing cycle which will be in the fall 2015.
- If comments are extensive we may need to make a listing determination at a later date.
- EPA will initiate communications with CFAC and Glencore this spring about the possibility to begin site investigation work summer of 2015.
- I told Virginia that we would inform her of the exact fed reg publication so she is in the loop.

Virginia has meetings in Columbia Falls this week so appreciated the extra information.
